

Unbeknown to many, Ruby became a member of the Good News Church family in 1989. She loved Sunday School and assisted by passing out literature, ensuring that everyone had the books they needed for class each week. Mother Shirley Woolfork and she were life-long friends, mutually enjoying times of fellowship and prayer.

In her final days, she struggled with a multitude of health challenges including Congestive Heart Failure and Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease. In 2013 alone, she was admitted seven times to the ICU at various local area hospitals for Respiratory failure. On Monday morning January 20th, she breathed her last breath, slipping away from this life and into the arms of her Savior—Jesus Christ.

Ruby leaves to cherish her memory her husband, Major, of fifty-four years, her daughter—Dianna Walton, two "adopted" daughters—Hannah Walker and Anne Evans, two brothers—Charles and Joe Brown, two sisters—Pat Washington and Mary Stevenson, and a whole host of nieces and nephews which are too numerous to count.

In Loving Memory of Ruby.....

One who was deeply loved and valued even as the beauty of her name implies.
